

Building tomorrow's minds :

On the shoulders of teaching giants in the bush capital

Kathryn Allan is the kind of teacher we all aspire to be.

Engaging, enthusiastic and incredibly knowledgeable about her subjects.

This is perhaps best exemplified in the way that students who, by their own admission, 'do not like English' say that their Year 10 English class with Ms Allan continues to be one of their favourite classes.

These are the students who ask 'Why do we study English?' and 'How will this help me in the real world?' but when they have Ms Allan, they understand.
